

REVOLUTIONISTS MARCH NORTH TO BOMBARD PEKING

In Attack on Swatow, Yuan's Troops Are Defeated and Forced to Retreat

(Special Cable to Liberty News.) HONGKONG, April 5.—Revolutionists were given a great ovation as they passed through Kowloon, a seaport of the province of Kwangtung today.
Under the leadership of Chee Jap Sun, the republican forces will march north to make an attack on Peking. General Look Lan Sing is also getting ready to make an attack in the north.
Yuan's soldiers at Swatow made an attack on the republican forces but were forced to retreat. Republicans made an attempt to capture General Chu Mun, but he escaped, and was taken safely aboard the Chinese gun-boat Hoi Chung. Republican troops of Kwangchow and Kwangsi will make an attack on the monarchy strong holds left in the south of China.

CANTON GOVERNOR NOT ASSASSINATED; HOAX

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 5.—It has been established that the rumor that the governor of Canton had been assassinated, is a hoax, though widely circulated here. Two Chinese newspapers have ascertained that their cablegrams were used by others. The opposition gave out the story of the assassination, and the messenger implicated in the "leak" has been discharged.

STUART HOLDS PERRY CANNOT ACT FOR QUEEN

Hearing in the Liliuokalani case, which was set for 9 o'clock this morning in order that Judge A. S. Humphreys might be called to testify before Judge Whitney as to the queen's sanity, has been postponed until next Friday morning.

The decision of Judge Stuart, given yesterday afternoon, in regard to whether Judge Antonio Perry, the queen's attorney, could appear in court as counsel for her was given in the negative.

Judge Perry has no standing in the court in this matter, according to Judge Stuart's decision. Lorrin Andrews having been appointed by the court as the queen's "next friend" and guardian ad litem. The afternoon decision followed a debate held during the morning session of the court.

Judge Stuart also denied a request by Judge Perry that the court grant him privilege of an interlocutory appeal from its ruling to the supreme court.

Then Judge Perry was told that he could take the case to the supreme court and get a writ of prohibition if he was in the right, as the case in the lower court must be tried on its merits.

Demurrers filed by counsel for the trustees of the queen's trust were also overruled by Judge Stuart, and another request for an interlocutory appeal in this case, made by Attorney Olson, was denied. It is believed that Judge Perry will carry the case higher, though he said today that he does not care to make any statement in this regard at the present time.

DETECTIVE NIPS PLAN OF YOUTHS TO GET MARRIED

Mike Zimini, aged 19, and a girl of 15, both Russians, living in Kamuela, Hawaii, like the prospects of happiness in the United States so well that they decided to become man and wife.
The mere matter of age limits was no bar to them, nor the fact that they hadn't secured the consent of the bride's parents.

After spending four days in Hilo having a good time, they came to Honolulu, where they intended to get their license and be married. A wireless message from Deputy Sheriff Lindsay from the Big Island started Detective Rudolph Stein on their trail.
After a few hours' search he located them living with Russian friends.
They hadn't yet been married, so he arrested them both and held them until the girl's mother could come from Hilo to take back her venturesome daughter.

PUUNUI OUTLET STILL UNCERTAIN AFTER MEETING

City Planning Commission Hears Both Sides But Defers Action for Awhile

Puunui's outlet is still under consideration by the city planning commission. Protests were made by the representatives of the district's improvement club at a meeting of the commission this morning over the delay occasioned by the objections of the Country Club and George Sherman to the Laimi road extension. Action on the matter was deferred until the next meeting, a month off.

It is evident that small property owners in the district resent the attitude of the two large owners. Bitter remarks crept out often at the hearing, despite the efforts of the chairman to preserve general calm.

"In one of its numerous plans outlining what we want the Country Club kindly allow us a 'magnificent view' of its club house," sarcastically asserted J. F. G. Stokes, a representative of the Puunui Improvement Club.
"I think this attitude of exclusiveness and sectionalism has been carried too far. We have been termed 'undesirables' by representatives of the club.
The improvement of the district has been held up for four months by the club and Mr. Sherman. Who are the undesirables? We who are trying to put through an improvement or they who are blocking it?"

Then Country Club members arose and told Mr. Stokes what a fine lot of men the members of his organization are.

Written promises of the Country Club and Mr. Sherman to contribute $2000 and $1500 respectively to the cost of a road—but not the Laimi extension—were read at the meeting, along with a proposal for a new road, to commence at the end of Hawaii street and run along the bank of the stream. This is the proposal in which the club referred to the magnificent view.

It was pointed out by Mr. Stokes that under the frontage tax laws the club would have to pay about $7000 for the proposed extension of Laimi road and Mr. Sherman about $2500, so that their offer to contribute to another road "is not so very generous." That any other project than the extension of Laimi road would not meet with the approval of the residents of the district and would result in an opposition by property owners that would prevent its adoption, was the declaration of G. J. Boisse, president of the improvement organization.

"We will fight any other proposal," he declared. "We will have to pay the greater part of the cost of this road and we will not accept an outlet we do not want. The Country Club and Mr. Sherman may think they can tire us out, but they will find that they are mistaken."

The commission adjourned without taking any action, but not before W.
F. Illingham, a member, had declared that he had heard from a man who knew that the Laimi road extension would not go through before every possible legal means of stopping it had been exhausted. "It will take a year or two to get action on your proposal, so why not compromise and get work started?" he asked the Puunui residents.

CONVENTION OF OAHU CHURCHES OPENED TODAY

Rev. James Davis of Waikeane and J. Nakila were reelected moderator and secretary, respectively, at the semi-annual meeting of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association for Oahu, which convened in Kaunakapili church this morning, and which will continue until Friday.

Following devotional exercises an address was delivered by Merle Davis, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Tokio, Japan. Reports of the business and program committees were presented, after which the various committees were chosen. The following committee chairmen were elected:

Devotional, W. K. Poai; pastors' reports, Rev. H. P. Judd; delegates' reports, Rev. S. W. Kekuewa; petitions, Rev. J. P. Erdman; necrology, Rev.
S. W. Kekuewa.

Practically all the churches on Oahu were represented. Meetings of the Sunday school and Christian Endeavor were to be held this afternoon.

Safety First

A phrase much abused, but a warning well heeded.

Don't skid! Easier said than done? Perhaps.

But chains—Weed chains—help to avoid it. Loose brakes, a clutch that holds or fails, too much speed, make skids.

And be sure your clutch, brake, tires, etc., are right in skiddy times.

That's our business.

"Skids lurk in light places—rainy days."
